BOLIVIAN FINANCE.

Of the many South American States which have led a struggling and erratic existence after the War of Independence, which liberated this continent, none perhaps has been more unfortunate, more forgotten and more backward than Bolivia. A glance at the map of South America will suffice to convince one that Bolivia is and has always been at a disadvantage in the race for progress and development, and we may well say that our mediterranean neighbor is as yet a political and social experiment, which up to the present has given the reverse of brilliant results. Bolivia's misfortunes and limited resources are a mute appeal to the sympathy of the world at large and to that of the Argentine Republic in particular. The Argentine Government must necessarily be the lever that must raise Bolivia from the present abyss of isolation and ruin: the budding trade of the North depends on the facilities of communication and transit offered by Argentines: Let the study of this question be the pivot of future relations.

The revenue of the Bolivian Government is about one half that of the Provincial Government of B. Aires. The income of Bolivia in 1882 amounted to a little more than 2,000,000 $bol. the smallest revenue of any State on this continent. Here we see that a nation of two million souls, taxed we may say to the limit of their resources, only yields an income of a few millions per annum. This is proof enough of the misery of the people, and, strange to say, the great source of revenue of the Government does not arise from taxation on imports into the republic as happens in other countries. The tax on minerals yields much more than that on importation. The following figures of the revenue will shew the situation at a glance:—

Custom Houses:—
La Paz	213,700 $bol.
Oruro	245,407
Tupiza	272,855
Tarija	52,902
Beni	4,888
Taxes:
On silver ore	862,124
Peruvian alcohol	42,455
Tolls	28,250
Export of specie	160
On copper	14,666
On tobacco	7,645
Stamped paper	44,556
Stamps	3,394
Tax per head	27,449
City tax	5,831
Judicial do	10,123
Quina do	100
Mining patente	2
Public lands	7
Sale of National goods	1,700
War loan	54,699
Mint	38,114
Contributions—
Of Departments	379,067
Of Municipalities	56,993
Total	2,317,600

Could a more lamentable description be made of the reduced income, of the limited resources, of the poverty of a nation? These figures shew that Bolivia is either in embryonic formation or that the nation is effete. We cling to the former opinion, believing in the vitality of the country which has known better days and will recover if helped by neighbors who would reap collateral advantages from its prosperity and advance. Bolivia at present is what this country was in its infancy, with a more limited horizon and sphere of action.

To the above figures of the ordinary revenue of Bolivia we must add those of the extraordinary revenue, amounting to 1,114,000 bol., consisting mostly of loans from the National Bank of Bolivia. Thus the total revenue of the Bolivian Government during 1882 amounted to 3,500,000 in round figures. Is it to be wondered at, if there is a deficit of 600,000 bolivian dollars, with the country at war and the treasury pushed to meet the great demands of the situation? The wonder is how the country can get along with such an insignificant income.

Looking at the figures of trade of Bolivia during 1882 we may see the relative worth of the axiom of the balance of trade of a country. Before entering into these considerations the figures will give a succinct idea of the difference between exports and imports:—the figures are official, taken from the Finance Minister's report for 1882:—

Exports	21,988,273 $bol.
Imports	5,516,915
	16,471,358

The balance in favor of Bolivia represents 74 o/o, and Bolivia is the poorest country in South America The transit trade alone of the Argentine Republic is equal to the total volume of Bolivian trade, but there is an important feature in the imports, which will much interest Argentines, as few are aware that nearly half the imports into Bolivia pass through Argentine territory, as will be seen by the following figures:—

Imports—
Argentine transit	2,198,000
Argentine imports	388,000
	2,586,000
Various	2,931,000
	5,517,000

This transit trade through the Argentine Republic is becoming daily more important, and we may calculate the value of exports from Bolivia passing through Argentine territory for 1883 at over fifteen million patacons—no insignificant figure.

Thus Bolivia had in 1882 an income of two million Bolivian dollars and a trade of 26,500,000 Bolivians—very small figures indeed for a country with a population double that at least of the Banda Oriental, and a territory much larger than that of Chile with the annexed provinces. Bolivian production is limited, we may say, to the extraction of minerals, and, unless cheaper means of communication are made, the industry cannot reach any great development; the country is so poor that imports do not amount to 3 dollars per head of the population, and little can be expected from the future if foreign capital does not pour into the country with railways and roads, to carry the native productions to the markets on the ocean and on the Paraná. No country in South America shows a more diminutive scope of industry and a more backward state of affairs than Bolivia; the figures which we publish will be read with interest by all, and especially by the foreign creditors of the Bolivian Government; the foreign loans of Bolivia amount to very little, but the Home Debt exceeds seven millions of Bolivians; the amortizations on this amount have been suspended in view of the war with Chile. The Finance Minister hopes to be able to consolidate and fund the entire indebtedness of the nation, but his efforts have been unsuccessful up to date, in view of the little credit and confidence placed in the Republic. Let us hope that the results of the financial year 1883 will be more satisfactory than those of 1882—for the sake of Bolivia and of South America.

PARIS LETTER.

(From our own Correspondent)

December 22.

The psychological moment has arrived as to war between France and China. Will the latter, with the fall of Sontay, make good her threats? Will France, with the victory, accept sincere negotiations for peace? Will both leave the unpalatable task of arranging the differences to England? Opinion pauses for replies.

In France people are more occupied with the presentiment of an approaching general war. "The cankers of a calm world and a long peace" are accepted as the causes of the present numerous ills that flesh and nations are heirs to. So far as this country is concerned, the idea of plunging into a war would have produced something like consternation four years ago. Now, "we are considered to be able to hold our own." France, no doubt, believes she has a good many outstanding accounts to settle. But single-handed? That's the nettle danger.

All is not serene about the future of the Suez Canal. M. de Lesseps's convention with the English shippers is not relished. Its weak point, its cardinal defect is, according England a footing in the administration: having got the ell she will demand the inch. Less chauvin observers attribute the perturbation in the Canal scrip to the resolution of the Khedive, that he intends to have his say in the construction of the second Canal, and that being guaranteed the capital, he can make it himself.

The long announced play of Nana Sahib has been brought out at the Porte Saint Martin Theatre, of which Madame Sarah Bernhardt is the lessee, through her son, Maurice. It is a kind of melodrama, in five acts and seven tableaux, and in verse by M. Jean Richepin. The plot is founded on the Sepoy mutiny of 1857, with Nana Sahib as central figure, and Cawnpore for scene of action. M. Richepin, accepting that the fate of the terrible Nana is a mystery, takes the usual historic liberties accorded to the stage.

The Nana has just perpetrated the horrible massacre. He is hemmed in in Cawnpore by the advance relief force of Havelock, under the command of "Sir Edwards." Suspected by the insurgents of lukewarmness, the Nana orders all the English remaining to be massacred, save the Governor, Lord Whisley, and his daughter, Ellen, whom he guards as hostages.

But the Nana wants money, and he is in love with Djamma, daughter of the Rajah Tippoo-rai. Now, one Cimron, a Pariah, also loves Djamma. If the Nana resigns his suit in his favour he will make known to him where the god Siva, with its boundless wealth, is concealed. The Nana replies by imprisoning Cimron. At this moment Yonghi, a wandering prophet, that the natives obey with fanaticism, arrives, urges the Nana to sacrifice his love for the treasure, and sets free Cimron.

Sustained by the love of Djamma the Nana expects to make head against the English under Edwards, especially as Ellen, the hostage, is the betrothed of Edwards. But Djamma is jealous of Ellen and ensures her escape. The Nana proposes to capitulate, on condition that he and his followers will be amnestied and accorded the honours of war. He causes Lord Whisley to ascend the ramparts and explain these conditions to the besiegers, his countrymen, which, if refused, Whisley will be executed with every refined cruelty. His lordship, on reaching the rampart, addresses the soldiers, tells them the atrocities the Nana has committed, urges them to take the town, and, to "spare me from the cruel death with which I am threatened, I, as your General and superior officer to Edwards, in command, order you to fire at my heart." The soldiers obey, and the body of Lord Whisley rolls down to the feet of Nana, the deceased's white vest being pierced with balls.

This is the best scene in the piece, and the melodrama might here finish. However, the Nana exclaims, "I am lost." and escapes to a neighbouring jungle, the "tigers' paradise." After Cawnpore is occupied by the English the Nana comes back in disguise, as he learns Djamma, his "fiancée" is on the eve of being married to Cimron; thaflatter has been raised to important dignities, as the Rajah Tippoo was faithful to the English. Cimron denounces Nana; to establish the identity of the latter, "Sir Edwards" calls Djamma, and Ellen, who is now his wife. They fail to recognise Nana, Djamma, out of love, and Ellen, out of gratitude to her for saving her. Ellen's motive cannot be defended: her escape was instigated by jealousy and selfishness, and ought not to shield the wretch who caused her father's death and the horrible massacres of her fellow-countrymen.

Cimron leads Tippoo, and his daughter Djamina to the cavern, where Siva, the god, is seated on a funeral pyre, surrounded by untold treasures. While Tippoo is occupied filling his pockets with diamonds, and Cimron is attempting to carry off Djamma, the Nana arrives by a secret door, which he committed the great blunder to close. Cimron, concluding he is betrayed, stabs Tippoo; Nana poignards Cimron, and the latter, before expiring, sets fire to the ready-prepared pyre. The Nana, and his "fiancée," having no means of escape, resolve to mount the pyre and be consumed with the god.

The play is very unequal, and lacks unity of design. It is kept from becoming wearisome by the rapidity of the action and the variety of the incidents. The only sympathetic character is the hero, Lord Whisley. No pity can be extended to the loves of Nana and Djamma—the tiger and the gazelle.

The piece is composed of souvenirs of other plays. In the ballet music that Massenet has composed, it is the echo of his Roi de Lahore.

The scenery is very splendid, especially the interior of an Indian palace and of Cawnpore and its environs. The massacre scenes are much too realistic, and the cavern tableau rather in the kind of an extravaganza.

As for the interpretation, Madame Bernhardt (Djamma) was not uniformly excellent. She was brilliant in her speciality, tender, pathetic and the seductive. Where strength of declamation was required she roared. This is more surprising, as recently she gave proof of having the stuff of a Lady Macbeth in her. Nana Sahib (Marais) left much to desire. He was too artificial. The best all-round role in the cast is that of Cimron (Volny.) But the clou of the drama is the address of Whisley to the soldiers and his execution.

CONSUL BAKER'S REPORT.

AGRICULTURE IN THE ARGENTINE REPUBLIC.

THE PROVINCE OF BUENOS AYRES.

In regard to the Province of Buenos Ayres, in which since 1875 there has also been great agricultural development, I am not so fortunate in obtaining statistics. I lately addressed a note to the Provincial Statistical Office asking information as to the number of acres in cultivation and the breadth of land planted in different crops, but the director was not able to give me a single figure on the subject. As a census of the province was taken last year, I supposed the information I requested would be readily accessible, but it seems not; and I shall have to wait till the census is published, which will probably be some time during the present year. I can only meanwhile make a rough estimate of the present condition of agriculture in this province, and assume, if there were 33,000 squares in cultivation in 1875, and the industry here has kept equal pace with the development in the adjoining Province of Santa Fe, that the number of squares under cultivation in 1881 would about 115,000, or say 460,000 acres. These figures correspond very nearly with calculations made by persons engaged in the grain trade, who, as the season was a good one, estimated the yield of wheat for 1881 in this province at 3,000,000, or an average of 12 bushels to the acre on 250,000 acres planted in that grain.

BREADTH OF LAND IN CULTIVATION IN 1881.

So that on the basis of the above calculations for the Provinces of Buenos Ayres and Santa Fe, and assuming that in the other twelve interior provinces there was no greater breadth of land planted than in 1875 (which is probably considerably understating the fact), the following figures will approximately show the agricultural condition of the Argentine Republic in 1881, to wit:

Province of Santa Fe—In cultivation, 649,980 acres; in wheat, 435,321 acres; average yield per acre, 7½ bushels; wheat crop, 3,093,031 bushels.

Province of Buenos Ayres—In cultivation, 460,000 acres; in wheat, 250,000 acres; average yield per acre, 12 bushels; wheat crop, 3,000,000 bushels.

The other twelve provinces—In cultivation, 542,412 acres; in wheat, 132,204 acres; average yield per acre, 7 bushels; wheat crop, 825,428 bushels.

Total in cultivation, 1,652,392 acres; total in wheat, 917,525 acres; average yield per acre, 8¼ bushels; total wheat crop, 6,918,459 bushels.

That is to say, in the fourteen provinces of the Argentine Republic, with an area of about 2,000,000 square kilometres—say 800,000,000 acres—there was under cultivation in 1881 only 1,652,392 acres, all the rest being more or less devoted to grazing purposes. The showing is a very small one, but compared with that of 1875, it will be seen that the number of acres devoted to agriculture has more than doubled in the short space of six years.

AVERAGE YIELD OF CEREALS.

In regard to the average yield to the acre which is assumed in the above, it is proper to state that it is not the true average, but the years mentioned were exceptional in that the crops were very seriously injured either by reason of continued drought or by the ravages of locusts. In good years the average yield of wheat in the Province of Santa Fe is about 1,800 kilograms per cuadra (16 bushels per acre), and in the Province of Buenos Ayres it is 2,500 kilograms per cuadra (23 bushels per acre), or about double the production of 1881. Owing to the causes mentioned, the crop has not hitherto been considered as a certain one, the hopes of the husbandman frequently being blasted by the advent of an army of devouring locusts when his fields were almost ready for the harvest, or earlier in the season a drought has set in and burned up the first promises of a crop. Good care and attention, improved methods or times of planting, and, above all, that Providence which not only overrules but "gives the earlier and the later rains," may in time remedy these drawbacks to the prosecution of this industry.

TABLE SHOWING THE STEADY PROGRESS OF AGRICULTURE.

Notwithstanding the vicissitudes of agriculture in the Argentine Republic, owing to good or bad seasons, the steady progress which the production of cereal crops is making in this country, in spite of all drawbacks, will be seen from the following table of imports and exports, which, beginning with the year 1870, I have carefully compiled from official sources. These figures tell the history of the agricultural movement in the Argentine Republic during the last twelve years better than any words I could make use of. The quantities are stated in kilograms, the Argentine Republic having adopted the metrical system for Custom House purposes, so that to reduce them to English pounds it will be necessary to multiply by 2.2:—

1882 (b)
1883 (b)

(a) Owing to the locusts, there was a failure of the wheat crop in 1880, and a partial failure in 1881.

(b) These figures for 1883 include the port of Buenos Ayres.

Leaving out of the count the years 1880 and 1881, in which, owing to the depredations of the locusts, the wheat crop was almost a failure, it is interesting to note the gradual but persistent reduction in the amount of imports, and the corresponding increase in the amount of exports of wheat and breadstuffs. The crop of 1879 shows from the export figure what a good harvest means to the Republic. The year 1882, just closed, was not a good average in wheat, though in Indian corn the crop was the largest ever harvested in the country, the supplies for export being over 88,000,000 kilograms, or, at 56 pounds to the bushel, over 3,400,000 bushels (nearly 100,000 tons), from the port of Buenos Ayres alone, while linseed was also added to the list of exports.

WHAT ARE WE TO DO WITH OUR BOYS?

To the Editor of the Daily Telegraph.

Sir—I offer no apology for soliciting at the present moment a little portion of your space to call the attention of the immense public who read The Daily Telegraph to what I am forced to consider the weightiest and most discouraging social problem of the day. What are we to do with our boys? On all sides this question is being asked. Population is rapidly increasing: every commercial and professional avenue is growing more and more crowded; for hundreds, for thousands of willing hands and hopeful and ambitious hearts there is no room, and the most pushing the most resolute, the most importunate parents, eager to give their children that start in life which most of us need or have needed, are almost powerless to serve their sons. I am the father of seven children five of whom are boys. The eldest of these will be seventeen next year, the youngest is eight. What am I to do with them? I seem to be one of myriads of people standing on a river's bank unable to push their boats into the stream that leads to the wide ocean because the water is chokeful of other folks' launches. Is the incapacity of parents to place their boys, to find work for them, to put their foot on the first rung of the ladder, less than a matter of general moment? I venture to think it is not, homely as the subject seems. There is scarcely a father of a family who is not distressed, whose life is not more or less embittered by this problem. I know for a fact, and I was shocked by it as a piece of bitterly suggestive truth, that a single advertisement in your paper for a clerkship of £30 a year, the first three months to be probationary, was answered by no less than 2,712 persons. Consider for a moment what this means—not only the poverty it implies among the educated community, but the crush that is permanently going on after mean and starving situations. We are told that life is year by year growing more expensive, and we know it by our rents, our butchers' bills, our clothes, and our bare needs. Yet whilst existence on the one side becomes more costly we are increasing our poverty in the present—a poverty that will take a more exaggerated and impracticable form in another generation or two—by having among us an immense number of youths who, with every disposition to work, cannot, strive as they may, find any species of labour to which they may put their hands and so earn their bread for the day. We hear of the wealth of Great Britain. No one doubts it, but thousands of fathers are asking who has got it, and thousands of their boys are wanting to know why, if the opulence of England is so enormous, a thousand young people will, on any morning that one likes to name, rush to personally apply at an office for a situation of sixteen or eighteen shillings a week.

I say that I am a father of five boys, and I ask what am I to do with them? I tried to get one into a bank where the first year's salary was £20, but there was no room. Merchants' offices are full. Engineers of far greater talents than my boys are ever likely to possess are going about in search of work or business in any other calling than that to which their fathers had to pay heavily to apprentice them. I have thought of the Bar, but have been made to recoil from all thoughts of it by the scores of dismal stories which have been poured into my ears in reference to that vocation. I have mentioned the sea, but have been warned that there are hundreds of captains and officers who cannot get work, and that the calling is so densely crowded that nothing but interest enables a man to squeeze through. I have thought of the army; but, irrespective of the dismay occasioned by being informed of the cost of educating and dressing and supporting a youth as a military officer, I was alarmed and effectually diverted from all thoughts of using that branch of the service as a channel for my boys by hearing of the hundreds of starving captains, colonels, and generals who are hunting about in all directions for any sort of occupation, not even disdaining posts which are absolutely menial in their duties. Dared I think of music as a profession? Not for long was that present to my thoughts when I heard of the sums paid to songwriters, and when the dreadful drudgery and the pitiful earnings of the poor music-teacher were pointed out to me. The Church? Alas! there is no poor man poorer than the poor clergyman, there is no calling more crowded; and without bishops to bring to my son's help, how would it profit me to make him or his brothers parsons, and have to allow them incomes after going to the expense of educating them for the ministry? Emigration? The colonies do not want gentlemen. The backwoods of America do not require cultivated manners and an acquaintance with the Greek and Latin poets. It is muscle and sinew, it is the spade and the axe—the mason, the blacksmith, the cook that young countries need. Is it my fault or society's that my boys are not qualified to take that rough, uphill, sweat-moistened path that conducts the patient, industrious artisan-emigrant in the colonies from his one room to a comfortable home. The misfortune of gentility is that it is restrictive. There are things it would rather starve than do in this country, and there are things it is forced to starve over because it cannot do them in the colonies. I do not wish to go to the expense of passage money in sending my boys thousands of miles away to be waiters, billiard-markers, stone breakers, cab drivers, locomotive stokers. I dare say I could fit them with such berths at home.

What I want to know, what thousands of parents occupying the same social status as myself want to be told, is what is to become of our boys if every professional and commercial avenue they are fitted to enter is closed against them by the crowds already waiting there? It is all very well to point to trade and to sneer at the prejudices of the genteel poor against shopkeeping. But how many sons of gentlemen, how many boys with good blood in their veins and a liberal public school education in their heads would be fit for such work as is expected of the shopman? Why, Sir, the successful salesman is a creature of instinct. He is all intuition. He is patient, undiscriminative of all qualities but the purse, sees no difference between a peeress and a washerwoman if both approach the counter to spend money, likes his work, and has a keen sense of commission. Sir, a man must be born so. Even if I had the ambition to see my sons shopmen, I have not the insanity to suppose for a moment that they are in the faintest degree qualified to give satisfaction to a master tradesman who wants men to sell his stuffs and wares, and to be quick and clever about it. Even let me assume that I am willing to make shopmen of my boys; is there any room for them? Is not that calling crammed to suffocation also? What is to be done? There may be readers of your paper who have given their minds to this distracting problem, and who may, therefore, have something to say useful for such fathers as I am to hear. I should hail with pleasure even a ray of light shed upon the dense gloom of this question. What are we to do with our boys? How are we middle-class people who have educated our boys and reared them as gentlemen to give the lads a chance—to send them afloat leaving their future to their own diligence and ability? I confess I do not know. Year after year the crowd increases, whilst the vocational channels remain unchanged in number and breadth. Year after year the cost of living grows heavier, whilst incomes dwindle and families multiply. It is a matter demanding grave and earnest consideration, for already we have among us a large community of people who are poorer than the very poor—ladies and gentlemen, I mean, whose incomes are deplorably small, who cannot make both ends meet, who are living one does not always like even to guess how, but who have yet to attire themselves as ladies and gentlemen and outwardly look what they are in heart and feeling. This class is being disastrously not to say dangerously increased by a generation who will not even have the slender purses the half pay officer, the poor curate, and such persons possess, simply because parents are unable to solve the great and depressing social problem, What are we to do with our boys?

I am, Sir,

Yours respectfully

A Father.

CREMATION.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES.

Sir,—As one of those whose great privilege it has been to assist in carrying out the last wishes of our dear friend Captain Hanham, perhaps I may be permitted to supplement the report of the cremation of his body, which has already appeared in the London daily Press, by a few more particulars of that most pure and sacred rite, and in so doing I feel that I am acting in strict accord with his oft-expressed desire that this method for the disposal of the dead should be as often as possible placed before the public in its true light in order that it may help to dissipate that sentimental dread which exists, and naturally so, in so many minds,

After the ceremony you have been told that the body was left in the beautiful mausoleum Captain Hanham had built in the grounds of Manston-house from hence it was borne by friendly hands to the crematorium the same evening, and after being placed in the chamber of the furnace fashioned for its reception, as it was the custom of the Greeks for the dead person's nearest relatives and friends to light the funeral pile, so here that duty devolved upon his adopted son, Mr J. C. S. Hanham, his friend Dr. Edney, and myself. Soon the all-consuming and purifying fire was at its work, and at the end of the two hours we saw by removing one of the small side blocks that it had indeed done that work well. We, as medical men, could recognize the various portions of the bony structure in the sea of fire, and the position of the body at the bottom of the furnace was by these means easily indicated. That there was nothing revolting to the feelings in the sight was truly shown by the fact that others present, not accustomed to such sights, looked on eagerly and expressed a unanimous opinion of the beauty and purity of the rite. After another hour it was found than the snowy bones crumbled at the slightest touch and cremation was decided to be complete.

The furnace, which has been so well described by the writer of the report above referred to, was the work of Mr. Richards of the Wincanton Iron Works, who had, in its construction, displayed his complete knowledge of the principles governing that perfect combustion so necessary for the purpose of cremation. The evening was beautifully clear, and, notwitstanding the lowness of the chimney, so perfect was the combustion that not the slightest trace of odour was perceptible, and having now witnessed three cremations I can most truly assert that in no possible way can it be injurious to health or in the least degree offensive to the senses. Can those who know the unspeakable horrors of our great city cemeteries say as much for earth-burial? The two processes, when considered with regard to the safety of the living, do not bear comparison, and seeing that they so closely resemble each other in both being processes of oxidation, differing chiefly in the fact that in the one case, by the agency of fire, the process is complete in an hour or two, while in the other, by slow horrible decomposition, it is not complete for years; seeing that the end is the same—the ridiculary dust and ashes consisting in each case of the earthy matter of the body alone, it can only be a question of time to overcome that sentimental dread and the curse of prejudice ere this will be the accepted method for the disposal of our dead. To-day, the apparatus having cooled, we collected the ashes—parts looking like frosted silver, parts like snowy dust. Reverentially and carefully was this done, as at Hector's funeral pile, where

"His brother, then, and friends searched everywhere,
"And gathered up his snowy bones with care."

These will be deposited eventually in an urn and be placed in the mausoleum side by side with the urn containing the ashes of his late wife, Mrs. Hanham, and his late mother, Lady Hanham.

As Captain Hanham was the pioneer of cremation in a practical form in this country, so also has it been due to his courage and forethought that those to whom he so confidently entrusted his own cremation have been enabled so faithfully and so successfully to encompass it. That it may bring forth such fruit in the coming future as to be an enduring memorial of his revered name must be the earnest wish of all who desire the health of their fellow man. I cannot do better than conclude by quoting the present Bishop of Manchester's words, when he said, "In the same sense in which the 'Sabbath is made for man and not man for the Sabbath,' I hold that the earth was made, not for the dead, but for the living. No intelligent faith can suppose that any Christian doctrine is affected by the manner in which, or the time in which, this mortal body of ours crumbles into dust and sees corruption."

I am, &c.,

J. Comyns Leach, M.D.

Sturminster-heath, Dec. 5.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The Italian emigrant steamer Umberto brings news from Europe to the 5th inst. It smells of "villainous saltpetre" and confirms what our Paris Correspondent said in a recent letter. viz, that the Parisians consider a European war as certain, in the coming Spring, as the return of the swallows. Germany is getting her small but formidable fleet into fighting trim, and has ordered 43 torpedo boats. The Italian Government is about to lay the keels of two more ironclads of the first class, and has asked the Chambers for 20 million francs to fortify the island of Sardinia. King Humbert will go to Berlin in April, and Her Majesty Queen Victoria will shortly repeat her visit to the shores of the Mediterranean. The French republican Government is about to commit another error, viz, to sell the crown jewels. Poor France! There was a terrific bobbery in the French Chambers during a recent debate, one of the Deputies telling Ferry that he was "un insolent."

In spite of the intense heat of the day, everybody in our office was shivering yesterday, thanks to the huge block of ice sent to us the day before by Messrs. Bertuch & Co., and which had hardly lost anything by melting during the night. All who have seen this ice say that it is far and away the best ever seen in this country, and many mistook it for imported natural ice. Subscribers calling on us to pay up are advised to wear flannel and bring their top-coats with them, while the ice lasts, as the temperature in our office is at freezing point.

The best of all the annual Hospital Bazaars held in this city—the St. Cloud—will open to-morrow. The programme is most diversified, including all kinds of games, raffles, music, the best of eating and drinking, in fact everything that's jolly. Our German, English, Spanish, Italian and Argentine Bazaars are all good, but our Gallic friends are first and foremost in this line, and all nationalities are to be met with at the yearly Fete de St. Cloud.

Dr Patrick Ramos has made a very natural request of the War Office, viz, to give him a salary, instead of allowing him to do duty at the Riachuelo as Medico de Sanidad, without giving him a copper for his daily toil.

The National Government will give General Sarmiento 2,500 Nats., to meet the expenses of his approaching trip to Chile.

The Umberto has brought another large consignment of emigrants—600. She made a very fast run out, only 19 days steaming, but she was detained three days at the intermediate ports.

Some of our older readers will doubtless remember Captain Hanham, who was out here many years ago, and the cremation of whose remains is reported (from the Times) in another column.

H.M.S. Amethyst sailed from Montevideo on Thursday for Bahia Blanca, where she will remain for some days.

The Minister of Justice intends to turn the old Men's Hospital into a prison, if the Municipality will kindly surrender the building. It ought to do so, as it is a scandal to have prisoners under trial locked up in the same place as the worst convicts.

It is not only in the River Plate that money is made in Land. The ever increasing value of land in London has been remarkably demonstrated by the sale of the vacant land on the Thames Embankment at a profit of something like £200,000. The corporation only purchased the land a few years ago, and the adverse criticism at the time was somewhat severe. In addition to making this handsome profit a site has been provided for the City of London School the cost of which will be more than recouped by the sale of the former site.

Don José Hernandez, author of the world-renowned "Martin Fierro," has let the dogs of the law loose on a Calle Cuyo bookseller, on whose premises several thousand unauthorised copies of his famous book were nabbed. It will go hard with the enterprising librarian.

The perforation for water at Puerto Roca has been brought to a sudden halt. Tubes broken in three places.

During the storm at Pergamino the other night, a lady and her niece were engaged in shutting a door when the lightning entered the room and shook everything in it, plates and glasses, knives, forks and spoons being suddenly affected with ague. The two ladies fell senseless, and when they recovered felt their legs burning and could not use them. Both are now in bed, paralyzed.

A Northumberland woman who owns a coal-mine, says she might have married two men a-day for the last two years.

Colonel Godoy has already begun the task entrusted to him of founding a National colony near Fuerte Roca. He has called on the Chief Commissioner of Immigration to give him some immigrants, and he'll do all the rest. The terms offered are very fair and liberal:—Board and lodging for the farmer and his family, if he have any; $20 Nats. monthly to each able-bodied labourer and $10 for boys from 16 to 19 years old, sons of the colonists; two lbs. of meat, 8 oz. of biscuits, bread, or flour, and six ounces of rice, beans, or other vegetable form a ration. At the end of one year's work each head of a family will have a right to receive a farm of 200 hectares (250 acres) free, on the sole condition of tilling it. These terms ought to tempt farmers, especially from Northern Europe, as the climate on the Rio Negro and Limay is cool and bracing.

Some peons, to the number of 120, have struck in the San Nicolas Custom House. They allege that their work should finish at 6 p.m., whereas they have to work sometimes an hour later. There must be a scarcity of animal matter in San Nicolas, or our friends would not be so saucy.

On Thursday night the Rowing Club meeting took place, and the Lopez-Muñoz matter was settled. The verdict of the "Comision Directiva" suspending the former for a year was ratified by a large majority. On this some of the members protested and withdrew, but the meeting was proceeded with, the names of the following gentlemen being added to the list of the Committee: J. Todd, Dr. Tedin, J. Higgins, and G. Cooper. The committee is now composed of N. Bouwer, President, and as "vocales" R. Ramsay, R. Murray, S. Bowley, J. B. Baker, besides those above-named. The meeting rose at 10.30 p. m. The club was never in a more flourishing condition. During the Half-year, one outrigged single-sculling boat and one half outrigged treble-sculling boat have been built at the Riachuelo, and and two half outrigged pairs, one double-sculling skiff, and one randan, or treble sculling boat, accommodating eleven or twelve persons, have received from England. The stock of boats is at present distributed as follows:—

Riachuelo		Tigre
2	Outrigged four	1
3	" pairs	2
2	Inrigged fours	2
2	Half-outrigged pairs	8
2	Single-Sculls	1
-	Treble-Sculls	2

4	Canoes	2
-	Sailing-boat	1
3	Randans	3
18		23
2	Private boats	14
10	" canoes	24

The Committee have changed the amount of entrance fee and subscription to $40 and $6 national currency, respectively, but as the consent of the members is necessary before the alteration can be made, the question will be ventilated at this meeting.

The Members List now stands:—

Pildoras Holloway.

Las virtudes de esta admirable medicina son especialmente eficaces para expulsar de la Sangre toda impureza. En los casos de debilidad, ella es incomparable, al paso que cura radicalmente las Indigestiones, y los desordenes generales del Higado, del Estomago, y de los Intestinos, restableciendose, como por encanto, el vigor y la salud normal, dichas Pildoras remueven asimismo las dolencias que suelen afligir a las Mugeres al llegar estas a la edad critica.

Unguente Holloway.

Este incomparable Balsamo sana los Males de Piernas y de Pecho, las Llagas Antiguas, y aun esas Ulceras cuyo origen no conviene mencionar en un anuncio publico. Para todas las Erupciones cutaneas no hay remedio igual al Unguente Holloway, al que millares deben la salvacion, tanto de sus Brazos y Piernas como de su existencia.

Antes de comprar, examinese con mucha cautela el Rotulo en el Bote o la Caja, para cerciorarse si esta la direccion de 533 Oxford Street, London, pues si no esta, entonces se trata de perpetrar un descarado engaño.

☞ Se invitan a las personas que sean defraudadas por los vendedores que expenden 'Las Pildoras y el Uguento de Holloway' falsificadas para que se sirvan al comunicarme los pormenores, e inmediatamente para formalizar procesos legales contra los Ofensores, y recompensare liberalmente a los Delatores por el trabajo que se tomen, comprometiendome a que no haya trascendencia de sus nombres.

Cedulas A	100¾
Cedulas E	88
Cedulas F	85½
National Bank Shares....	130
Municipal Bonds.....	81½

Affairs on the Bolsa continue very dull and all stocks rule flat: there is a heavy feeling in all quarters, of weakness in exchange, of depression in stocks, and of tightness in advances on shares and Cedulas. The good news from London, so anxiously awaited, did not arrive to-day and the momentary deception was reflected in a drop in quotations. Twenty shares of the National Bank changed hands for cash at 130, and 1,750 were sold for the end of the month at weak rates, which opened at 129½ and closed at 129½. The sale of two lots of 500 shares each upset the market, and the calculations of the bulls. No operations were marked on the board for February, but fair amounts are daily passed over to next month at $1 to 1½ per share. The aspect of the market this morning was flatter than usual, and official hours closed with a weak feeling.

Cedulas ruled more active to-day, but the market is falling. A few thousand Series A changed hands for cash at 100¾, a rather low quotation for the Series. About 12,000 Series E were sold cash at 88½ and 88. Operations for the end of the month embraced 35,000 E at 88½ and 88; 75,000 were sold for the end of February at 88¾-½. All the closing rates of the market shew a slight fall. About 60,000 Series F were sold for Saturday and end of the month at 85½. The weakness of the Cedula market is attributed to the large issue of Series F; the issue this week is calculated at 300,000. Money is in demand on Series E—$200,000 were placed to-day at 10 o/o. The men who are making money in the market are the lenders not the speculators.

The exchange market is very quiet; no operations were reported this morning. Exchange on Montevideo is quoted at 2½-¾ o/o; gold is in stiff demand for the rivers, but large arrivals of specie are expected in the beginning of next month. A large taker was rumored in the exchange market for the French mail. One of our private banks shipped fair amounts of gold to the Mount at the beginning of the week; gold ounces are the bulk of gold at present in this market.

No operations were reported in Nat. Bank Scrip this morning; a few hundred were offered at 135, but nothing done. The certificates are cheap at the present rate of 135, since compared with the quotation of the old stock there is a great difference in favor of the Scrip. At present prices the scrip stands at 106 per share, the cheapest stock in the market.

Discounts are easy; discount brokers state that applications at the banks are very numerous and very large, especially at the Provincial Bank; the average discounts of the latter are somewhat under the figures of December, when the Board, as a rule, granted $300,000 at least every bank day.

Several parties left this morning for Bahia Blanca 'en route' for the banks of the Rio Negro. The steamer Loire, which is bound for Patagones, has not sufficient accomodation for all the passengers booked and hence the departure of many by land. The tiring part of the land journey is the gallop from Bahia Blanca to the river Colorado, some 40 leagues through desert and black territory. The Junin de los Andes bullock-cart man, Mr. F. Vieyra, left to-day by land for Patagones also.

Telegrams from the scientific frontier on the Rio Negro announce the safe arrival of 1000 head of cattle at Fortin Junin de los Andes on the Chilian frontier; these animals belong to Colonel Godoy, the pioneer of the Rio Negro cattle trade 28 leguas kilométricas con 70,000 hectareas de muy buen campo de pastos tiernos y fuertes propios para vacas y ovejas, con espléndidas aguas permanentes en algunos parajes y facilidad con otros para hacer jagüeles.

Los campos que ofrecemos se remataran por disolucion de sociedad, y por consiguiente sin base.

Los lotes son: lotas C, núm, 6 con el pueblo General Acha y Ns. 19, y 22 y 33 de la Seccion 10ª, y lindando con los tres lotes anteriores y cada lote compuesto de 4 leguas kilometricas y a 5 leguas al Sud Oeste distante del Pueblo General Acha, la segunda Bahia Blanca del Sud, por su floreciente comercio y el gran desarrollo de la poblacion, pues cuenta ya en la actual con el servicio de dos galeras, la del señor Camacho (via del Sur) que sale de la Estacion "La Gama" F.C.S. los dias 10, 20 y 30 de cada mes teniendo sus agencias calle Moreno 243 y la del señor Negri, agencia Tacuari 9 y 11, que sale desde Chivilcoy los 9 19 y 29 de cada mes, y ambas Empresas hacen este servicio sin suvencion de ningun género lo que demuestra que pueden vivir y son sostenidas por el comercio y la poblacion del pueblo General Acha, que sera la Capital de la Gobernacion de una seccion de los Territorios Nacionales.

Como se vé, esto pueblo tiene comunicacion, cada tres dias con la Capital y pronto sera diaria por medio del telégrafo en via de construccion y cuyos postes estan ya muy cerca.

Para demostrar la bondad de estos campos solo nos bastara mencionar las estancias existentes en la jurisdicion de General Acha:

Señores Anchorena, agrimensor Castex Lopez Osornio (en 3 crizes), Real y Oliver (en Artehuco), Frisch-Patrick (Sumas Grandes), Teves Tobio, Corvalan, Gimenez, de los Santos, Gadea, Loza y Lozeano (Chiihue),, D. Simon (Siguelco), Capdevila y Escandy Hepcipel y Maraco), Balcarce y Herera (Resnoco Grande), Mater y Leesie (en Quini Mohal) agrimensor Casallar en (Pichi Rinanco) y muchos otros pobladores cuyos nombres no recordamos y ademas el espacio no nos permite estendernos mas sobre estos campos.

Los detalles minuciosos y datos estadisticos pueden verse en el folleto que publicamos con el correspondiente plano de las tierras que ofrecemos en venta y que esta a disposicion de los interesados en nuestra casa Alsina 78

Las tierras que se ofrecen en venta, se encuentran ubicadas en la Provincia de Santiago del Estero sobre el deslinde con la de Santa Fe.

Su situacion es inmejorable y difícilmente podria ofrecerse a la venta una estension de tierra que reuna las condiciones de las que van a rematarse. Estan situadas al norte de la Provincia de Santa Fe y a ocho o diez leguas de las florecientes colonias de esta Provincia y muy poca distancia de los importantes establecimientos de los Srs. Ramayon y Escalada, Lezama y otros.

Dentro de muy breve tiempo las colonias invadiran estos campos que por su feracidad y situacion se prestan cual ningunos otros a la agricultura.

La calidad de estas tierras es excelente. Estan cubiertas de una capa de tierra vegetal de sesenta a ochenta centimetros y en algunas partes el espesor de estas capas pasa de un metro. Las aguas subterraneas se encuentran a cuatro, cinco y seis metros de profundidad, y en todos los jagueles que se han hecho hasta ahora en esta region, se ha encontrado agua dulce. Abundan ademas las aguas superficiales en pequeños arroyos y lagunas.

Estos campos son parte de los comprados ahora muchos años por D. Adolfo E. Carranza al Gobierno de Santiago del Estero y cuya mensura y plano fueron levantados en los años 1859 y 1860 por el ex-Ingeniero Nacional D. Juan Hildebrano.

En el año de 1873, a solicitud de sus propietarios entonces el Dr. D. B. de Irigoyen, D. Alejo Arocena, D. Anacarsis Lanus, D. Ambrosio Lezica y Don Adolfo E. Carranza, fueron prolijamente mensurados y amojonados en suertes de cuatro y seis leguas por el Agrimensor Publico D. Valentin Virasoro, mensura y division que fue ordenada y aprobada por el Gobierno de Santiago del Estero.

El espediente original se encuentra archivado en el Ministerio de Gobierno de la Provincia de Santiago, pero un testimonio publico de este espediente con todas sus ocupaciones, esta depositado en esta ciudad en la Oficina de Registro del Escribano D. Ramon F. Lagos, (Pasage Roverano, escritorio num. 34 altos) donde los interesados pueden inspeccionarlo.

Las ciento sesenta y siete y media leguas que se ofrecen en venta, estan divididas en treinta y una suertes de cuatro leguas, cinco de seis leguas, dos de cuatro leguas y una fraccion, una de tres leguas y media y otra de una legua y media.

Todas estas suertes estan perfectamente amojonadas, teniendo cada mojon gravados los numeros de las suertes a que corresponde. El agrimensor señor Virasoro ha adjuntado en su diligencia de mensur los datos principales de la naturaleza de cada una de estas suertes y a pedido de uno de los interesados dio un informe especial sobre las tierras que van venderse que en su mensura estan señaladas y divididas en tres lotes con los numeros 1, 2 y 4 de la seccion del Este.

No publicamos aqui esos informes por su estension, pero los interesados los encontraran en el folleto que hemos publicado y puede obtenerse en nuestra casa Alsina 78.

Esos informes son muy minuciosos y dan una idea exacta de la calidad de estos campos y ellos fueron pasados a los Sres Bates, Stokes y Ca. por cuenta de quienes el agrimensor Sr Virasoro practico la mensura.

Desde la cindad de Santa Fe a estos campos hay solo treinta y dos leguas. Desde el lote 100 al pueblo de Reconquista, centro de colonias y establecimientos importantes hay veinte y tres leguas.

Ademas del informe del agrimensor Sr Virasoro y del que hemos transcrito los parrafos que se refieren a la estension de tierras que ofrecemos en venta, pueden los interesados consultar el espediente de mensura que se encuentra en poder del escribano Sr Lagos, donde encontraran datos sobre cada una de las suertes.

La riqueza de estas tierras por su feracidad sus ricas aguadas y sus montes esta fuera de toda ponderacion.

Podemos asegurar que antes de dos o tres años estara colonizada la mayor parte de esta zona, pues las colonias de Santa Fe, como puede verse en el mapa adjuuto, avanza mas rapidamente hacia ese lado, que es donde estan las tierras mas ricas para la agricultura.

Contribuira poderosamente para el desarrollo de estas colonias la proximidad del puerto de Reconquista, sobre el Rio Parana, como tambien el Ferro Carril que se propone construir la empresa de los Sres. Murrieta y Ca.

Es publico y notorio que estos señores acaban de enviar a Santa Fe al Señor Don F. E. Harman, distinguido agronomo ingles, con el objeto de estudiar esas tierras que van incontinenti a ser colonizadas en gran escala.

Estan depositados en el Banco de Londres y Rio de la Plata los fondos necesarios, no solo para los gastos preliminares, sino aquellos que se requieren para la instalacion de varios grandes establecimientos de campo.

En vista de estos antecedentes es indudable, que antes de muy poco tiempo, esas tierras valdran de 20 a 30 mil pesos fuertes la legua, precio que hoy se obtiene facilmente en las ventas de las tierras proximas a estas para colonias.

Por planos y folletos ocurrir a nuestra casa Alsina 78.

Remataremos a la mas alta postura y dinero de contado, por liquidacion de una sociedad:

Una legua cuadrada de campo superior para vacas y ovejas.

Existen en el campo 4 puestos y dista este solamente dos leguas del pueblo de Tapalque; linda al Norte con el Sr D Antonio Ferreto, al Sud Estanislao Colman, al Este herederos de Jose Balcarce, hoy Estaban Villanueva, Emilio Fernandez y Jorge Gianola, al Oeste Daniel Burke. Como decimos mas arriba el campo es de primer orden, pues ha tenido mas de 12000 ovejas, cuya lana se ha vendido este año alli a $82 arroba, las vacas han dado un aumento de 30 o/o.

Los animales que alli se pagan son $40,000 por legua al año.

Vendido el campo se remataran 600 vacas con 15 o/o de novillos al corte, y 1200 ovejas mestizas al corte.

Las haciendas deberan sacarse en el acto, siempre que no sea uno mismo comprador del campo y haciendas.

Las personas que deseen ver el campo pueden dirijirse el Sr D. Daniel Burke, que linda con el mismo.

La area de campo arriba indicada, compuesta de 804 hectareas 84 areas y 72 cents; lindando con los Srs P Pico, Urien Eduardo y Luis Cortes. El Ferro Carril a Campana cruza el campo, cuya estacion dista unicamente 20 cuadras. En el campo existen 3 chacras con sementeras de trigo y maiz que estaran recojidas cuando se entregue la propiedad, que no reconoce ningun contrato de arrendamiento.

Creemos de todo punto inutil demostrar la importancia de la localidad, que tiene a pocas cuadras uno de los mas grandes rios del mundo y un esplendido y seguro puerto donde cargan y descargan sus mercaderias vapores de ultramar.

Es sabido que la via fluvial es la mas barata de todas, de manera que es una gran ventaja para cualquier industria que se establezca alli.

La base que se ha fijado para la venta de este campo es infima; 600 $ hectareas, y en prueba de ello no tenemos mas que recordar que el campo que ocupa la Compania Inglesa para la conservacion de nustras carnes, fue vendido por los Sers. Eduardo y Luis Cortes a razon de 3000$ mas o menos la hectarea: mas de seis mil pesos la cuadra cuadrada. Reconoce esta propiedad una hipoteca de 10,000$ f de la Seria E, con la cual puede continuar el comprador a estilo de plaza.

El campo arriba indicado, compuesta su area de una y media legua cuadrada menos 14 cuadras que ha tomado el Ferro Carril del Sud para sus terraplenes.

Es un establecimiento de campo ya hecha y formado hace algunos años, a 3 leguas del mismo pueblo de Bahia Blanca y a media legua del ejido.

El campo es de buenos y abundantes pastos, con aguada permanente, sobre el arroyo del Saladillo de Montoya y tendra una estacion el Ferro Carril alli mismo, lo que es una gran ventaja.

Tiene dos puestos con dos jagüeles en el fondo, y la poblacion principal sobre el Saladillo se compone de 7 piezas de material, todos los techos de fierro y material, pisos de tabla y todas con cielos rasos, 3 de ellas son empapeladas, formando en conjunto una elegante y comoda casa de campo; tiene ademas su correspondiente letrina de material y un galpon forma de rancho de 18 varas de largo por 8 de ancho, paredes de barro reforzadas con ñandubay, piso de tabla propio para esquila o deposito de frutos, 2 piezas de barro, 1 ramada, corral de ñandubay y una quinta alambrada con buen alfalfar, cerco de cina-cina y muchas plantas frutales y de adorno.

Los linderos del campo son los Sres. Vicente Caziglio, M Grigg (antes Claraz), Diehl, Tornquist y Ca, Perez, Norato y otros. La base para la venta de esta magnifica propiedad es $600,000 m/c, reconociendo una hipoteca de 300,000$ ó 12,000£ a favor del Banco Hipotecario, Serie E, con la cual puede seguir el comprador, a estila de plaza; asi que con un pequeño desembolso se puede adquirir una estancia perfecta. Existen actualmente en el campo diez mil ovejas, mil quinientas vacas y yeguas y caballos. No tienen contrato, asi que puede entregarse en el acto.

Procederemos a la venta en subasta publica, de la importante propiedad arriba designada, bajo la base de ciento veinte mil pesos nacionales oro.

La area de terreno que ocupa con frentes a las calles mencionadas, se compone de 4,751 varas cuadradas y lo edificado esta distribuido en la forma siguiente: a Rivadavia, 8 almacenes incluso la esquina, con altos, a Azcuenaga 10 almacenes, tambien con altos, y en el pasage a la calle Piedad 14 almacenes.

En torno de la gran plaza el trafico de las carretas, toda adoquinada, tiene 4 pabellones con 48 puestos para la venta de carne, y sobre los costados, con calles por medio, tambien adoquinadas, hay cinco pabellones con 100 puestos para verduras, aves, pescado y otros articulos. El gran pabellon techado, formando plazuela en el centro, que se denomina 'El Piso,' tiene 14 puestos para la venta de fruta y contiguo a el esta el departamento de la administracion con todos los muebles necesarios y gran repuesto de los diversos boletos que se emplean en los cobros diarios.

El edificio tiene seis entradas con grandes portones de fierro, tres a Rivadavia, dos a Azcuenaga, y uno a Piedad. Todo esta edificado en cal, con tirantes y columnas de madera urundey y los techos de teja francesa. Los pisos de carnicerias y puestos de verduras son de cimento hidrofugo Poggi y el del gran pasage, de concreto sistema Aldao. El establecimiento contiene un total de 138 locales para almacenes, puestos &c, y a mas un corral, caballeriza con pesebres, letrinas y grandes sumideros, aguas corrientes y gas en todo el establecimiento, interior y exteriormente, con llaves de incendio distribuidas convenientemente.

En poder de los Rematadores estan las escrituras de propiedad, la Concesion Municipal del radio de calles adoquinadas a todo rumbo, acordada por diez años, de los que hay aun ocho a correr, y el ultimo balance anual de 1883, tomado de los libros de la Campaña, sobre los cuales se puede verificar su exactitud si se quiere. El impuesto que se abona a la Municipalidad en compensacion del radio es de $ 120,000 m/c al año, pagaderos por trimestres vencidos.

El conjunto de este establecimiento, en sus tres frentes, es de una arquitectura a propósito y presenta un golpe de vista que embellece aquella localidad. Las verdulas que ocupan el edificio son de piedra de Escocia.

Creemos escusado entrar a encomiar la importancia del negocio que se desarrolla en aquel mercado y que aumenta diariamente, a punto de ser muy pocos los locales que se encuentran desocupados.

Prevenimos a los licitadores que exigiremos la entrega del 5 o/o en garantia, sobre el valor de la venta, antes de firmar el boleto.

Todas las Compañias venderan en sus Estaciones boletos de abono e intercambio con una rebaja de 20 o/o, en libritos de 10 o mas Boletos, los que serviran indistintamente en cualquiera de las lineas; es decir, que un Boleto de abono de la Empresa de Belgrano, sera recibido por cualquiera otra de las Compañias y asi en general; cada Compañia recibira los Boletos de todas las demas.

De esta manera, los que compren Boletos de Abono conseguiran una rebaja sobre los precios existentes, y como la cantidad que se vende es muy reducida y al alcance de todos, no dudamos que el publico aceptara con gusto este arreglo, que viene a redundar en su beneficio.

GREAT FIRE IN GLASGOW.

Patent "Rapid" Fire-Engine.
R. & J. JARVIE,
MANUFACTURERS,
19 Stobcross Street,
GLASGOW.

Testimonial from Alexr. Sinclair, Esq., Manager, Herald Office, Glasgow

Office of The Glasgow Herald,
Glasgow, 10th Nov., 1883

Gentlemen,

In connection with the Great Fire in Buchanan Street and Mitchell Street which besieged our premises on Saturday night last, I can say without reserve that your handy "Rapid" Fire-Engines, of which we have seven, did most invaluable service in the hands of our men by preventing the fire catching and in extinguishing it where it was burning. At one of the most critical moments, when the flames had seized upon one of our side rooms and were about to spread to the heart of the building, one of your Machines was applied to the burning parts with the most effectual and gratifying result.

I may add that had one or two of these Extinguishers been upon the roof of our neighbour, J. Jenkins, the probability was that his building would have been saved, and we would thereby have been preserved from the extreme jeopardy we were in.

Yours truly,
(Signed), ALEXANDER SINCLAIR.
To Messrs. R & J Jarvie,
19 Stobcross Street,
Glasgow.

Extract from Chambers's Journal, 26th May, 1883.

"Knowing as we do that prompt measures taken at the first may save the premises, we have intruduced into those of this Journal half-a-dozen handy little portable Fire-Extinguishers, termed the 'Rapid,' which seem all that can be desired. They are manufactured by R & J Jarvie, 19 Stobcross Street, Glasgow.
